Newsletter Article January 17 2019

We will not be using a CRYSTAL BALL to view the changing horizon appearing in Collin County and Texas regarding political expectations. As usual, our programs are to keep our membership well-informed.

Dr. Michael McConachie, Professor of Political Science, Collin College's Plano Campus will present an analysis of the 2018 Midterm Elections. The presentation is titled, "Meeting Expectations," and will look at the outcome at both the National and Texas levels.

What is the impact of the changing demographics for Collin County and Texas? Lastly, will the trend become more liberal concerning political and social issues?
Review New Year's resolution #4, SEEK TO MEET NEW PEOPLE.
