Topic for Thursday's meeting

Middle East Tensions Drive Gas Prices...Nowhere?

Guest Speaker: Dr. Merrill Matthews, Resident Scholar at Institute for Policy Innovation:

Texas, being the leading contributor to America's energy independence ---- has played a major role in shaping President Trump's foreign policy, especially in the Middle East.

Come listen to Texas energy expert, Dr. Matthews, discuss the American fracking boom and its impact on current foreign policy, and what would President Trump's America-first foreign policy have looked like if we were not energy independent?

Dr. Matthews will build on his articles in The Wall Street Journal, Investor's Business Daily, Barron's, USA Today, Forbes, etc. with an informative evening that will involve cheerleading and learning. Bring your questions about energy from solar tax subsidies to the ethics of investing in fossil fuel companies.
